is interested in the

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF THIS COMMUNITY

Remember Then That:

The business of a town is its very life-blood.

The stores and business houses are not alone for the merchants.

Prosperous merchants will make the community prosper.

The more buyers there are in a town, the greater "turn over" the merchants will have, and thus the more they will be able to reduce prices and increase the quality of the goods they sell.

Thus By Trading at Home with the home town merchants the people of Macleod become the builders of their own community.

No True Citizen

will stunt the natural growth and expansion of his home town by fostering the mail order business of far away communities.

$50,000 FIRE AT GLENWOOD—MIDLAND ELEVATOR WITH 25,000 BUSHELS WHEAT DESTROYED

Glenwood, Nov. 8.—The Midland elevator, adjacent outbuildings, three C.P.R. box cars, and 25,000 bushels of wheat were lost in a mysterious fire Sunday night. The blaze was discovered about 10 o'clock and all efforts to stem the progress of the blaze proved futile. In two hours the elevator was razed. A grain train had just pulled out of the Glenwood yards when the fire broke out. The loss which will probably reach $50,000 is fully covered by insurance.

Incidendiism is strongly suspected as this is the third elevator to be destroyed by fire this year. Last January the Ogilvie elevator was burned, in July the Alberta wheat pool elevator and now the Midland appears to have fallen a prey to the fire bug. The disastrous blaze is a hard blow to Glenwood and district especially at this time when grain deliveries are heavy.

People are precipitant. Always putting off something till tomorrow instead of day after tomorrow.

FLOOD TOLL PASSES 140—RIVERS DROPPING—NEWPORT FACING STARVATION NOW

Boston, Nov. 8.—New stories of distress from northern Vermont and the addition of new names to the ever-growing list of fatalities in connection with last week's flood which has already claimed more than 140 victims, continued to pour in today.

From Newport, Vt., hard by the international line, came the latest tale of suffering when a party of four men tramped miles over torn roads and swaying bridges to Burlington to tell of a town that was faced with starvation.

They brought the news that at least three men had perished there with the possibility that many more may have been claimed in the sudden rise of the Black River.

Many youngsters will doubt it, but you can be "intellectual" without throwing mud at a church or knowing a single risqué story.

It has been suggested that political candidates be subjected to mental tests. Why not voters?

THE EMPRESS THEATRE — CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

EDNA MURPHY AND THE SON OF SILVER KING STAR WITH THOMSON AT THE EMPRESS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The vivacious blonde loveliness of Edna Murphy lends itself admirably to various types of roles in screen productions, her career reveals.

Miss Murphy, in the leading feminine role opposite Fred Thomson in "Silver Comes Through," went directly into this dramatic Western role from the popular comedy "McFadden's Flats." Previous to this role, she played the feminine lead in Johnny Hines' "All Aboard," and her earliest work will be remembered in Richard Dix's starring vehicle.

A splendid cast is seen in support of Thomson as the star of "Silver Comes Through" which in addition to Miss Murphy includes "Silver King," the wonder horse, William Courtwright, Harry Woods and Mathilde Brundage, Lloyd Ingraham directed.

Another star of this picture, although not so well known will nevertheless be viewed with interest by all those that have marveled at his father, Silver Prince, the son of Silver King, has a part in the picture, and seems to have inherited much of that equine personality that has made his father famous.

ADOLPHE MENJOU HAS EMBARRASING MOMENT AS HERO OF DRAMA

The last word in embarrassing moments is to have an ace of hearts found tucked up your sleeve just after you have taken in nearly every chip on the table in a big poker game.

This delicate problem is said to be enacted most convincingly by Adolphe Menjou in "A Gentleman of Paris," his new Paramount vehicle which will be shown at the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. Menjou's role is that of injured innocence. He doesn't know how the card got in his sleeve but neither do any of his friends and they feel that the only decent thing for him to do is to kill himself. Menjou fires to his room with a pistol and when the pistol is exploded the mystery of the hidden card is explained.

The supporting cast of the picture includes Nicholas Soussanin, Shirley O'Hara, leading woman; Lawrence Grant, William B. Davidson, Arlette Marchal and Lorraine Eddy.

TICKLISH SITUATION FOR "A GENTLEMAN OF PARIS"

Being nonchalant with a razor on one's Adam's apple is one thing and being nonchalant when the razor is piloted by a jealous husband who has reason to believe the owner of the Adam's apple is guilty of an intrigue with his wife, is something else.

This ticklish situation is enacted in "A Gentleman of Paris," the Paramount picture starring Adolphe Menjou, which will be seen on the Empress Theatre screen next Monday and Tuesday. Nicholas Soussanin is the valet who pilots the razor. The incident is said to bring out one of the finest bits of acting ever witnessed on the screen.

FRED THOMSON AT THE EMPRESS—FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The pride of a great horseman in pure bred stock and his refusal to recognize worth in an animal of mixed breeding is an axiom from which an important phase of the plot of "Silver Comes Through," Fred Thomson's latest starring vehicle for FBO is derived.

In "Silver Comes Through," Thomson's beautiful horse, "Silver King," plays the role of a western horse of non-descript breeding, entered in a cross-country race as a last resort when the thoroughbred entry of his owner suffers an injury. Through the intricate structure of the plot, "Silver" thus becomes the benefactor of the man who first refused to recognize his merit and later "backed" him grudgingly.

Thomson, as the star of the production, is said to endow his characterization with an unusually vital performance of a highly spectacular nature. In addition to "Silver King" the supporting cast includes Edna Murphy in the leading feminine role, William Courtwright, Harry Woods and Mathilde Brundage. Lloyd Ingraham directed and also wrote the adaptation which is based on the original story by Frank M. Clifton. "Silver Comes Through" will be shown at the Empress Theatre Friday and Saturday.

GERTRUDE EDERLE RESCUES GIRL FROM WATERY GRAVE

Risking her own life to save 19 year old Mary Ashcraft from drowning, Gertrude Ederle of English channel fame, thrilled 2,000 spectators at Santa Monica beach when she temporarily dropped her acting part with Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation to dash into a treacherous surf in the grim role of life saver. The rescued girl was an extra with Bebe Daniels in "Swim, Girl, Swim" which will be at the Empress Thursday only, next week.

Miss Ederle, who has a prominent role in the picture, was eating lunch on the sand with other members of the company when suddenly a call was heard from Miss Ashcraft who had taken the luncheon hour for a swim. Before life guards could reach the girl Miss Ederle had leaped through the breakers and dragged her ashore.

HAND PICKED CAST IN "SWIM, GIRL, SWIM"

Good news from Hollywood.

Thursday next week the Empress Theatre will present lasting Bebe Daniels in her latest Paramount comedy, "Swim, Girl, Swim."

Advance reports have it that this production is the best Miss Digniel has ever made and if facts mean anything, the reports cannot be exaggerated. "The Campus Flirt" was a knockout, but critics agree that "Swim, Girl, Swim" has it topped.

Here are the facts. In the first place the story was written by Lloyd Corrigan who knows everything about how a college story should be written with color, romance, thrills and laughs. It was directed by Clarence Badger and this man has never been known to miss.

It has a star particularly suited for just this sort of thing—fast moving comedy—and the cast is hand picked. James Hall, Gertrude Ederle—yes, the famous Trudy of English channel fame, is in the cast—Josephine Dunn, William Austin and James Mack are only a few of the names.

The story is about a girl who swims the channel and yet who is unable to swim. And that is a situation. There are races and chases galore, just one event after another. And, just to be sure that the college atmosphere was really there, Miss Daniels selected the University of California in Los Angeles for the location of the campus scenes. More than 200 students participate in the production.

"Swim, Girl, Swim" is the first picture Trudy has ever appeared in. Her role is a good one and she is seen as a player and also in her customary role of a swimmer.

COMING EVENTS FORESHADOWED

CURLING MEETING

A meeting of the Macleod Curling Club will be held in the Rest Room on Monday November 14th, at 8 p.m. Important business, so a full attendance is requested.

J. T. Marks,

The Elks will hold their first Card Party and Dance of the season on Friday, November 18. 36-21

NELSON "THE STRANGLER" DRAWS DEATH SENTENCE—JURY OUT SHORT TIME; PRISONER NOT MOVED BUT SAYS 'NOT GUILTY'

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Earle Nelson, of Palo Alto, Calif., variously described in police records as the "dark strangler," "Gorilla man" and "maniac killer," was sentenced to death here today for the murder of Mrs. Emily Paterson, one of the two Winnipeg women whom he strangled and violated early last June.

Nelson will be executed on Friday, January 13, next, nearly seven months from the day he was captured at the small town of Killarney, Man., and charged with the crime.

The verdict of "guilty" was returned by the jury after one hour's deliberation, bringing to a dramatic close a trial which had aroused international interest and unprecedented public hostility toward the prisoner. Nelson heard the verdict with indifference. That he was laboring under emotional stress was apparent, however, when the court asked him if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced.

"I Am Not Guilty"

Standing erect, with hands clasped behind him, Nelson faltered momentarily, and then replied:

"By reason that I am not guilty."

He did not finish the sentence. After a brief silence, the court asked: "Anything else to say?"

"No, not that I know of."

The last utterance was made in a clear and spontaneous voice, as if he had complete control of himself. As Mr. Justice Dymally approached the fateful word, "I sentence you to be hanged by the neck until dead," the prisoner appeared to realize the hopelessness of his position.

He shifted his weight slightly from one foot to the other, suppressed a sigh, and then looked straight at the judge, as if listening politely to a conversation which was being addressed to him.

No Appeal to be Entered

After sentence had been pronounced, Nelson sat down, brushed his hands lightly over his mouth and swept a fleeting glance across the crowded court room.

He then settled back in his indifferent attitude, his head resting against the marble slab of the prisoner's dock and hands folded in his lap. Two guards shackled him quickly and rushed him through a back passage and to the provincial jail where he was committed to the death cell of steel and concrete.

J. H. Stitt, who brought into play every resource at his command in an effort to save the stranger from the gallows, announced later that he did not propose to enter an appeal.

CANADA AND SOUTH AMERICA

Almost every issue of every daily newspaper on this continent records some new complication in the relations of United States with the Latin countries of South America.

For years Latin America has been suspicious of United States "imperialistic tendencies." The recent "Nicaragua incident" has fanned that suspicion into open criticism and into a great measure of dislike.
Canada seems to be overlooking the wonderful trade advantages that United States is thus creating for

J. S. McGowan

who was recently appointed western manager of the Colonization and Agriculture department of the Canadian National Railways, with headquarters at Winnipeg. He was formerly eastern superintendent and assistant to the director of colonization, at Montreal.
He succeeds Dan M. Johnson, who has gone to London to become European manager.

us in South America.

When United States landed marines in Nicaragua, that one incident was worth in trade hundreds of millions of dollars to us. But it will only be worth that sum if we take advantage of it. That one event was the greatest thing that could have been done for Canadian trade, but our Canadian manufacturers should go down there and take advantage of it, instead of allowing the trade of Latin America, alienated by prejudice from United States, drift over to Europe.

Down in the Central and South Americas there are between sixty and seventy millions of people. These people, like Canadians, are naturally a little jealous of the States and of the enormous wealth and prosperity now being enjoyed by United States.
And, like Canadians, many of those countries are suffering from the injustice of unequal trade arrangements with the States and from political affronts that have effected these injustices.

Canada, of course, is United States' biggest customer. Canadians buy annually more than six hundred million dollars' worth of highly manufactured goods from the States, yet when we try to pay for those goods in anything but raw products, we are subjected to the same terms that were offered to the inhabitants of North America 300 years ago.
Then, a few dollars' worth of furs and raw materials.

How long Canada can live and d-business under the present unequal trading relations with United States is not a question of our Canadian appetites and desires, nor of our political likes and dislikes; it is

MARTIN BROS. DIRECTORS OF FUNERAL SERVICE Licensed—Embalmers LETHBRIDGE & MACLEOD AGENT: A. YOUNG, MACLEOD simply a question of how long Canada's raw resources will hold out.

The natural market for the goods manufactured from Canadian resources is United States. Our two peoples should enjoy with each other, and to their mutual profit, complete reciprocity in trade. But if the Canadian manufacturer of Canadian raw material is not to be allowed to do business with the one hundred and twenty million people in United States, our Canadian manufacturers should be busy making commercial friends with people outside United States.

If our Canadian farmer can go out and sell in open competition in the world market his four or five hundred million bushel wheat crop, surely the manufacturer of Canadian raw material can go out and find a world market for his goods.

And with United States landing marines in Nicaragua and dropping bombs on other South American countries, it looks as if Canadian trade would find those countries a good business bet.

HERE COMES THE DOWRY

The open season on brides has come and gone. Confetti, rice and shoes have dotted the landscape, jewelry store windows have been filled with candlesticks, bridesmaids who have been tagged twice have reached upward longingly to catch the bride's bouquet, and a mighty wail, like the lamentations of Job, is now heard from the unfortunate parents who have to foot the bill.

Weddings, like house cars, mother hubs, sideburns and cigar-stores Indians, are not what they used to be. Brides, bridegrooms, ministers and witnesses are still necessary, but the halcyon times when an up-and-coming young feller and his best gal could get hitched on a shoestring capital of $300 and a bucket of nerve are gone.

The concomitants of a wedding day involve an overhead that is ambiguously but truly a considerable setback. The higher costs of higher living involve extras now that require considerable drain on family fortunes. It takes two sets of parents, working as hard as they can, to see one set of honeymooners through the first five or ten years of married life. For few young men marry today with any idea that they will be able to support themselves and their wives during the first few years of wedded life on what young men can earn today even when overpaid. Help from his folks is expected as well as help from her folks, and the parents who used to get rid of a daughter by defraying the overhead of the actual ceremony and the honeymoon are now faced with a problem of prolonged maintenance to keep their pride and joys out of the bankruptcy courts and the poor farm.

All this presages the return to the dowry. European society still clings to this custom of the dowry, and every young man who picks him a wife gets with her a substantial bonus in cold cash or a negotiable equivalent. Until recently, this custom was considered unbecoming, and no self-respecting man of colony era or the naive or dreadful decades would think of accepting riches from the bride's papa unless the young man were one of those frowned-up fortune-hunters who married for money. It just simply wasn't done.

But all that is changed. Who is to blame, no one can say. The world has a way of working those things out gradually, and the skinny finger of shame or the fat thumb of luxury can be pointed at both the spoiled children or the spoiling parents with equal chance of finding the guilty party.

Regardless of guilt, the dowry is coming and, probably, to stay. Where parents do not happen to be affluent enough to give dowry, there is perhaps one other solution for the young folks who will a-marry go; two can live as cheaply as one if they both work.

HUSBANDS SHIRK HOUSE-KEEPING

Forty-five per cent of the new human habitations built last year were apartment houses, and only two out of every five families on the continent now live in the one-family dwellings which used to be dignified under the group institutional title of "the family home." These are the statistics of the United States Department of Labor, so the facts must be so.

Once again there can be raised a great hue and cry over the disappearance of family life of the kind that flourished in that indefinite period known as the good old days.
Front yard, back yard, side yard, cellar and attic are as out of date as the human appendix, and the kitchen has devolved into cubbyhole of infinitesimal dimensions.

Of course the reformer will shout that the modern woman is the cause of it all. She's too lazy to keep house, too intent upon her bridge and her novels and her makeup and what's going on at the movies this afternoon and evening. She has no time for the children she has. They will run wild all over this county and the next and what is the world coming to, anyway? The question is quite another to need no answer.

But is the woman to blame for all this? Hardly. Talk to any of the modern young husbands for any length of time and their ideas crop out obscenely. Would they fix a furnace? Not on your life. Would they cut the grass on the front or back yards until their kinder were grown up? They would not. Would they lend a little co-operation on voyages of discovery into attic or cellar for those annual clean-out expeditions? Not while they're conscious.

In the passion for shirking domestic duty, the male has been just as slothful as the female. The "hard day at the office, dear" has become an alibi, tougher than shoe leather.
Civilization is one or two too many generations removed from the farm, and the back-to-the-soil urge which used to make men want to hie in a garden has shrivelled and shrunk to veritable non-existence.

Admit, if you must, that the home is not as it was or that it just is not, but put the blame on the gentleman of the house as well as on the lady.

"FACING THE MUSIC" IS PRE-SENTED BY MACLEOD VETS—PLAY MAKES FINE IMPRES-SION—PRAISE FOR CAST

One of the most successful plays staged in Macleod for many a long day was presented before a crowded house at the Empress theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 2nd. An all star cast of local players supplied mirth to very responsive theatregoers for over two hours. The play "Facing the Music" was put on under the auspices of Canadian Legion (B. E.
S. L.) formerly known as the G.

James Duff Guild

who has been appointed assistant to the Agricultural Agent of the Canadian National Railways, for the Western Region, with headquarters at Winnipeg.
He is a native of Manitoba and a graduate of the Manitoba Agricultural College. Mr. Guild, who has been supervisor of illustration farms, at Brandon, succeeds T. P. Devlin, who has become superintendent of the railway's colonization work at Saskatoon.

W. V. A., and was under the direction and management of Chas.
K. Underwood, and was a financial as well as an artistic success, which was a foregone conclusion, as anything that "C.K." undertakes in a theatrical way has always proved a great success. The acts were full of laughs from the rise of the curtain to the drop, as the terrible predicament of the two Smiths and their wives was unfolded during the course of the play.

The cast of characters were: Mrs.
C. A. Anderson, as leading lady taking the part of Mrs. John Smith, who arrives unexpectedly on the scene and finds a strange woman in her flat; C. K. Underwood, as John Smith, who has an awful night of it explaining to his wife; Miss Olive Young, as Miss Fotheringay, an actress, who is the cause of all the trouble; Miss Clara McLean, as Mrs.
(Rev.) John Smith, who comes into the wrong apartment and complicates matters terribly; J. Rorer Hunt, as Rev. John Smith, who also comes into the same wrong apartment, and is seen as a notorious confidence man; Frank P.

MACLEOD BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB

Although the club was somewhat slow getting started, on account of weather and it being hard to find a suitable type of pig, it is having a very successful season. Mr. Cockburn, who, besides being farm manager and animal husbandry instructor at the School of Agriculture, Claresholm, is the pig club organizer and supervisor for Southern Alberta and shows by action that he has not forgotten us by far.

A long distance telephone call on Saturday morning informed the local committee of the club that three registered boars had been shipped express to the Macleod Boys and Girls Club and these were distributed as follows: Hazelton District, W. Alcock has been asked to look after the animal; Orton District, J. Tolley; last, and not by any means least, Parkerville District, is to be looked after by M. Faunt. These gentlemen were selected by Mr. Cockburn, who, after several visits to the various districts, thought that they were the most centrally located and capable men.

These boars were selected by Mr. Cockburn out of the lot bought by the Dominion Government at Calgary and shipped him. Two of these were raised by the Vauxhall people, who always manage to get away with more than a fair share of prizes at all of the big stock shows in the West.

While on the phone, Mr. Cockburn gave the results of the Raymond and Magnolia Clubs, which shipped their pigs on the original date. They did not make the showing by points that our local Club expected they would. Having Tamworth pigs and getting them early, a big showing was expected in which they fell down heavily.

So, boys and girls, get busy and the next two weeks will show whether you have the ability to beat the north end of Southern Alberta, and don't forget that there is still some money in the funds for prizes for feeders and Mr. Shields' special for judging, besides the Government prizes. Unfortunately the Calgary Judging Competitions had to be called off. This caused quite a slump amongst some of the local competitors but the feeding end still goes merrily along and the competition is very keen but quiet.

Judging by the remarks one heard from the Hazelton district every one who has inspected this boar is high with praise of the class of animal shipped in and all are well satisfied. So, Mr. Farmer, if you live handy to any of these centres call around and see the class of animals that are available for use and if you take advantage of it Macleod will be on the map for selects. The breeding is there if you have the feeding.

SUNFLOWER SILAGE FOR FATTENING LAMBS

In districts such as North Western Saskatchewan, where, on the Dominion Experimental Station corn has never been a dependable crop even for silage, sunflowers constitute the bulk of the silage used.

Tests made at the Scott Station in comparing sunflower silage with pulped turnips have repeatedly shown silage to be superior for lamb on a grain ration and out straw. If turnips were equal to silage in feeding value the crop would not become generally used on account of the extra labour required. From the cost of gains in the check lot, and the extra gains produced by feeding silage, it has been calculated from an average of four tests that when out straw is the only other roughage, sunflower silage has a value of $8.90 per ton for feeder lambs.

During the winter of 1926-27 a test was made to determine the value of sunflower silage for feeder lambs when low grade western rye grass hay was used to replace some of the straw. In this case the silage gave a return value of only $2.46 per ton. One test is not sufficient to draw final conclusions, but from the results to date it would appear that the lower the quality of the main roughage the higher will be the value of the sunflower silage.

PRESBYTERIAN GIRLS' LEADER AT MACLEOD STRESSES HOME TRAINING

Miss Sinclair of Toronto, National Girls' Work secretary of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, visited Macleod Monday and addressed two meetings in connection with St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. In the afternoon at the manse she met with the C.G.I.T. group when twelve girls were present, also about fifteen members of the Women's Missionary Society of the church were present.

Miss Sinclair gave a most inspiring address to the girls and mothers, giving a graphic and interesting account of her work among the C.G.I.T. groups and other young people's organizations of the church. At the close of the meeting the girls served refreshments.

In the evening a public meeting was held in the church, which was conducted by the C.G.I.T. girls, presided over by Miss Jessie Little, the president. Miss Sinclair spoke on the relation of the girls in Training to the church. She spoke first of the duties of parents to their children, of the necessity of bringing the children to church and forming the church-going habit when they are young. She said, "If we are to have a Christian church tomorrow, we must have Christian homes and influences today." She spoke of the need for something during the week for the teen age boys and girls. The Sunday school classes should have a week-night meeting when different subjects and recreations could be taken up, and she favored these boys' and girls' classes meeting together at certain times, when conducted in the proper manner. She impressed very strongly upon the girls the importance of practicing the creed or motto of their groups, "Know God, Seek Truth, Serve Others."

The C.G.I.T. groups from the United church and the Anglican church were invited, and a large representation from these groups were present. There was also a good gathering of parents present, and all enjoyed Miss Sinclair's helpful address.

WHY SLOGANS GO WRONG

An orange a day keeps the dentist away, says Dr. A. C. Thompson of Detroit, before the American Dental association. He explains that the acids prevent decay and accumulation of bacteria.

It is a pleasant thought—more pleasant than valuable. Orange juice is not a germicide, though it may help to clear teeth of adhering matter that would make a breeding ground for germs. But decay goes on nevertheless.

It goes on because the teeth are soft or brittle, lacking good bone-building substance in the food eaten. Teeth are preserved more by the stomach than by the mouth, and without the proper accompaniment food the orange slogan carries no more weight than the well-known saying about the apple.

Correct this sentence: "The three hours I waited at the junction did not seem long."

MACLEOD VETS' ARMISTICE BALL REAL SUCCESS—MORE THAN 250 PRESENT AT ANNUAL FETE—IS SOCIAL EVENT

Monday night in the Hudson's Bay Hall the Canadian Legion gave their annual Armistice ball, and despite the snowstorm, fog, and bad roads, there was a large turnout, over 250 being present.

This ball is one of the big events of the year to the dancing public, as the Vets are noted for providing the very best for the enjoyment of their guests, and last night every one had a good time as per usual. The floor was good and the music supplied by the Gaiety Five orchestra was all that could be desired.

Tasty refreshments were served by the boys, which were much enjoyed. A number of uniforms were in evidence and others wore their war badges. The coffers of the Legion will be boosted from the proceeds, but had the weather been favorable the crowd would have been very much larger.

W. McRAYE SPEAKS IN TOWN HALL

Macleod was favoured Tuesday evening with a visit from Walter McRae, noted Canadian orator, traveller and humorist.

First he was the speaker at the weekly supper of the Brotherhood of the United Church. For an hour he delighted the members of the brotherhood with a varied subject from his eloquent repertoire. Later in the evening he gave an entertainment in the Town Hall under the auspices of the United Church. The first part of the program was a lecture, the subject being "The Canadianization of Canada." The lecture was brimful of information on the national life of Canada, dealing very fully with such subjects as the literature of Canada, the class of books being read. He spoke very strongly of the number of Canadian authors who had to leave Canada and live in other countries to have their books published so that they could make a living.

He stated that for one dollar spent for books in Canada four and a half dollars were spent for chewing gum. Education was another subject which he dealt with, stating that there was no better system of education to be found anywhere, but he pointed out that out of the thousands of university graduates Canada was turning out every year how very few were being employed in Canada. They, like the authors and others with special qualifications, had to go elsewhere to find a suitable field for the knowledge which they had gained in our universities and schools of learning.

Patriotism was another subject which he handled, showing that Canadians were not patriotic as compared with other nations; even in the singing of our national anthems, he said, few could sing or repeat "O Canada" from beginning to end. As stated by an Eastern Paper, Mr. McRae is truly "An Apostle of Canadianism."

Mr. McRae gave a few sketches to finish the program, the whole being very much enjoyed by an appreciative audience, which unfortunately was very small. Such a talented lecturer deserved a full house, and those who didn't hear him missed a great treat.

Thanksgiving services were held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last Sunday, both morning and evening. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with grain, vegetables, fruits and flowers. The Rev. A. C. Wishart, minister conducted both services, and the junior choir in the morning and the senior choir in the evening rendered special thanksgiving hymns and anthems.

At the morning service Mr. Wishart took as his text Ps. 103: 4-5 "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise, be thankful unto Him and bless His name, for the Lord is good." He said the elements that go to make a real thanksgiving day were stated to be: first, A profound sense of God as the owner and giver of all good. We must believe in God, and in Him as the great giver. An atheist therefore can't have a thanksgiving day in any real sense. Second, a consciousness of our duty to return thanks at the table of Gods bounty. Third, the actual performance of the same in some definite tangible way. Too often we are the dumb recipients of the bounties. No duty is more largely enjoined in the Bible and few so poorly acknowledged as that of thanksgiving. Some reasons were advanced for giving thanks. Because He is our Maker and benefactor. Because of the unchangeableness and universality and freeness of His love. Because of what He is Himself. Because of the bountiful harvest and the many temporal blessings which we enjoy. A comparison was drawn between our condition and the condition that existed in the Mississippi valley, where more people were rendered homeless and absolutely destitute than reside in all Alberta and part of Saskatchewan.

At the evening service, "The Sin of Ingratitude" was dealt with based on the text Duet 6, 12-15 "Then beware lest thou forget, that the following points were emphasized. First, favours bestowed demand recognition and acknowledgement. That we are the recipients of many favours and blessings, and that there is an alarming amount of ingratitude in the world none will deny. Ingratitude may be viewed in a three-fold way. Ingratitude is robbery, it robs the benefactor of his due. Ingratitude is cruelty, it always hurts the heart that must endure it. Ingratitude is the meanest of all sins, receiving a favour without even muttering a thank you. Causes of Ingratitude were suggested, taking all favours as a matter of course, imperfect appreciation of the gifts, not seeing the value of returning thanks. Prosperity tends to deaden ones sense of gratitude.

MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL

The Macleod Town Council met Tuesday evening for the regular monthly meeting, Mayor J. W. McDonald, K.C., presiding. A considerable amount of routine business was gone through. The Medical Health Officer, Dr. Elder, presented his monthly report, which stated that no infectious disease cases had been reported during the month. The report also showed that October was the fourth month that no infectious cases had been reported in the town. Chief of Police Pringle presented his report for October, which stated there were four cases brought before the Magistrate during the month, with four convictions. The report also showed a considerable amount of work done during the month in connection with town property, dwelling houses, etc. The Western Canada Fire Underwriters Association report on the town of Macleod was before the Council and fully discussed. If all the recommendations in this report were carried out, they would entail a very large outlay of capital, which the town at the present time is not in a financial position to carry out. If they could be carried out Macleod would certainly be an ideal town, especially so far as fire protection is concerned.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS—BY A RED CROSS NURSE

As a nurse, my attention is frequently drawn to those children who are not receiving the care and training necessary for good health. May I here draw your attention to a few facts:—
Train your child from the moment he is born, please do not start him on a road of irregularity, in this way you are laying up all sorts of trouble for yourself, and ruining your child's constitution and perhaps his health. Regularity is the secret of success in child raising as in all the sciences.

1. Bath your baby regularly night and morning.
2. Feed him regularly by the clock, as per Doctor's instructions every 3 or 4 hours.

3. Put him to bed in a quiet cool room, window open, without light, and close the door.
4. After the child reaches the age of one year regularity is just as important then as during infancy. Try to picture that this little child is being moulded in so far as habits, body, development, action, speech and character. Do not spoil him through carelessness, ignorance or over indulgence.

5. Baby cries when he has indigestion from over feeding or improper feeding. When pins are pricking him. When he requires attention. When he has perhaps been lying too long in one position or insufficient feeding.
Do not boast that "Baby never goes to bed until 11 or 12 p.m." "Baby wakes you up every morning at 3 o'clock and won't go to sleep until 6 o'clock." There are times when a baby will waken during the night, perhaps he requires attention or a drink of water, but that is no reason for the fond parents turning on a strong light by his bed, talking to him and finally taking him into bed with them. If it is done tonight, tomorrow night the child tries it again and thus many well behaved babies are spoiled.

Remember that habit formation is the all important factor in the training of a child. A primary tendency in all children is imitation, and the parents may be directly responsible for certain characteristics of their children.

Books on the care of children can be obtained free of charge, by applying to the Canadian Red Cross Society, 408, Civic Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

There's nothing much to anarchy except the excitement of trying to keep out of jail.

ALBERTA WHEAT POOL NOTES

The string of 155 Alberta Wheat Pool elevators established something of a record when they reported handlings of 670,000 bushels in one day.

The annual meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool will be held on Wednesday, November 23, in Calgary. The reports for the year will be presented to the Pool delegates.

H. W. Wood, chairman of the board of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool, told the Calgary Kiwanis Club in the course of an address, that if the farmers cannot sell their own wheat scientifically there is little hope for agriculture in Canada.

Many contracts covering large acreages are being received by the Alberta Wheat Pool. J. J. Bowen of Calgary, who owns 2 1/4 sections of farm land in Southern Alberta has signed a contract; also Nat Bryant of Husar has placed his six sections under a Pool contract.

The Alberta Wheat Pool terminal at Prince Rupert loaded the first cargo of wheat from the 1926 crop for Europe this week.

Construction has started on the foundation of the new 2,400,000 pool terminal at Vancouver. It will be ready for the 1928 crop, and will cost $2,000,000.

GENERAL MERCHANTS—DRY GOODS, LADIES' AND MEN'S UNDERWEAR, BOOTS AND SHOES, GROCERIES, VEGETABLES AND FRUITS.

Little Barbara Stout, who had the measles with the rash that generally follows that epidemic, had the Doctor call upon her. He told her that he would cure her in a week. She replied: "Now Doctor don't make me any rash promises." We are often in the same predicament as Barbara. In our advertisements we avoid rash promises or misrepresentations. You can at all times depend upon our word. Our only fault is modesty and truthfulness. This is our busy time. Everybody wants rubbers or overshoes. That means taking stock of every rubber in the house. There is nothing more annoying to a customer than to be told that the line they want is just out—we expect it next week. We have just received a small consignment of ladies wear. Also a consignment of the latest styles in georgette party dresses and a selection of the newest modes in crepe back satin for afternoon wear. We only ask a modest 10% for the trouble of handling. Don't forget to make out your lists for presents as it is often annoying to be told "Sold out." Ties for men and ladies—the best selection ever. Ladies Hosiery of all shades. A full fashioned hose.
